

THE GLOBAL DEAL IS A MULTI-STAKEHOLDER INITIATIVE FOR SOCIAL DIALOGUE AND INCLUSIVE GROWTH

– A PARTNERSHIP OF GOVERNMENTS, BUSINESSES AND EMPLOYERS' ORGANISATIONS, TRADE UNIONS, CIVIL SOCIETY AND OTHER ORGANISATIONS

Join the partnership

GLOBAL DEAL

TOGETHER FOR DECENT WORK
AND INCLUSIVE GROWTH

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE A GLOBAL DEAL PARTNER?

The aim of Global Deal partnership is to benefit from, and contribute to, a platform that highlights the value of social dialogue and strengthens existing cooperation structures. The Covid-19 outbreak has shown how social dialogue can not only mitigate the impact of a crisis on the economy, business and workers, but can also help shape solutions.

However, although effective social dialogue and sound industrial relations are key to the Global Deal's goals, there is no 'one size fits all' model. There is a rich diversity in institutional arrangements, legal frameworks, traditions and practices of social dialogue throughout the world, where common interests are identified and divergent interests reconciled. By joining, partners are encouraged to contribute voluntarily based on their own context and capacity.

Joining the Global Deal enables knowledge-sharing among partners – the exchange of ideas, good practices, experiences and lessons learned. It is also a platform for joint projects, to interact on policy advice and research, building on already established initiatives and processes.

JOIN THE PARTNERSHIP

Our vision is for a better future of decent work, inclusive growth and sustainable development with Global Deal partners moving forward together towards these shared goals. Respecting, implementing and promoting fundamental ILO conventions provides the basis to achieve these goals.

For all to benefit from the global economy we welcome more partners – and the more diverse the representation, both geographically and culturally, the more global the reach and the greater the results. Partners are invited to conferences, seminars and have access to capacity building and training on social dialogue.

For a better future for workers and employers, access the Global Deal network and join the partnership.

BENEFITS OF SOCIAL DIALOGUE

- Creates opportunities for 'win-win-win' gains that mutually benefit workers, businesses and governments.
- Contributes to improved company performance and productivity gains.
- Constitutes a key mechanism through which common interests can be identified, and divergent interests reconciled for fair and stable workplaces and societies.

Increase productivity

Create quality jobs

Inclusive growth

Improve working conditions

Use social dialogue to realise
the Sustainable Development Goals
(SDGs)

Join the partnership

To access our latest flagship report, our briefs and examples of good practices together with more detail about the Global Deal, please visit:

www.theglobaldeal.com

CONTACT US

The Global Deal Support Unit
globaldeal@oecd.org

FOLLOW US

@theglobaldeal
#globaldeal

GLOBAL DEAL

TOGETHER FOR DECENT WORK
AND INCLUSIVE GROWTH

The International Labour Organization (ILO) and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) are founding partners of the Global Deal partnership.

International Labour Organization